

PUBLIC NOTICE

Kenai Water Arsenic Levels are Below the EPA Limits

Notice is hereby given, in response to high water demand, caused in part by wildfire fighting efforts, two low production municipal water wells were placed into service. These wells produced water containing arsenic with greater than 10ppb concentrations. Water from these two wells was mixed with water from high production municipal water wells producing water containing arsenic with less than 10ppb concentrations. The two low production wells were in service from June 20, 2015 until June 30, 2015, when removed from service.
